2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Message from the President

Dear Friends,

2020 was a year like no other, both for the equestrian sport and the world at large. As a sport, we started the year strong with team gold in dressage and a first-place finish in show jumping at the Nations Cup competitions in Wellington, Florida, as well as strong performances from our para dressage riders.

However, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, competition paused, and the Tokyo Olympic Games were postponed. We had to pivot and be resourceful in ways we never could have expected.

I commend our coaches, athletes, and those supporting the US Equestrian (USEF) High Performance programs for their resilience over the last year. Training continued—virtually and in person—despite a break in competition, and it's clear that the dogged determination for which our U.S. teams are known did not wane.

We have overcome very significant challenges, and it showed in our athletes' preparedness once competition resumed late last year and early this year. At the Buckeye Nutrition USEF CCI4*-L Eventing National Championship, veteran riders Boyd Martin and Phillip Dutton claimed first and second places, respectively, while rising star Woods Baughman took third. In show jumping, Bliss Heers, Lillie Keenan, Brian Moggre, and Jessica Springsteen secured a first-place finish for the U.S. at the Nations Cup CSI04* in Wellington. In para dressage, world number one Roxanne Trunnell set a world record by earning the highest-ever score in the individual para dressage test before leading the U.S. to team gold at the Adequan Global Dressage Festival 3 CPEDI3*.

Despite a year of refocusing, we remained unwavering in our commitment to the USEF Pathway and Developing programs across disciplines. Thanks to these programs, the U.S. has a horse and athlete pipeline that is stronger than ever and one that lays the groundwork for podium finishes at upcoming pinnacle events around the world. This pathway support is more critical than ever with World Championships next year and the Olympic Games in Paris, France, in 2024.

I extend my sincere gratitude to the USET Foundation's friends and supporters. With your support, we continue to successfully navigate one of the most challenging—and certainly the most unique—times in the history of the United States Equestrian Team. As we look forward with great excitement to the Tokyo Olympic Games this summer as well as future championships, I want to thank you for helping our athletes fulfill their dreams and achieve greatness on behalf of the United States. I am confident we will have much to celebrate together in the very near future.

Sincerely,

W. James McNerney, Jr.

Helen K. Groves

“Throughout my career, it’s my goal to inspire the next generation of equestrians the way that the prior award recipients have inspired me. We should always strive to be role models and to set high standards of sportsmanship and horsemanship. It’s not all about competing; it’s about making connections and helping each other along the way. I think the equestrian community is quite strong, especially after 2020. To see US Equestrian and the USET Foundation come together and make things happen the best they can is really exciting.”

“I did not start out as a para equestrian and I thought being in a wheelchair was the end of my equestrian career, but then I found para equestrian and a whole new world opened up. Over the years, I have watched the para dressage world grow and people gain more interest in it. It is very exciting to be recognized as an ambassador for para dressage and having the ability—with the help of [my mount] Dolton—to influence this sport to grow and prosper.”
